That if I don't write this thing to suit her in Beth's absence, I might as well ask Mickey and John Thomas for a job as a car-hop at the Triangle. Of course, I'd demand higher wages if they insisted I wear shorts.

Even if Beth is only 40 miles from Death Valley during her friend(s) here in Cypress need not worry about her and the heat. She spent two years in Bakersfield working for a medical colonel during the war and for one period of three days the temperature registered 117 degrees in the colonel's office.

That it is certainly amazing to see the enthusiasm Cypress landowners display when something vitally affecting their holdings is brought to their doorstep. It is also certainly a good thing that our neighboring cities have some enthusiasm, or the attendance at D. K. Hutchinson's bus line discourse Monday would have been pitiful indeed.

Out of the 50 in attendance, at least three - quarters of them were from out of town.

The visitors represented communities that were without a bus service at the present time. But THEY were there to impress upon Hutchinson the NEED for a bus service in their area. Some of them even had maps to show him, pointing out the population and possible routes through their sections.

It seems reasonable that if people living in Cypress could catch a 7:30 bus to Douglas, or other industrial plants in Long Beach, Knott's or Hunt's, and families could go to the beach for an afternoon without tying up the family car, Cypress would profit in many ways.

But the ten or twelve Cypress citizens at the meeting couldn't make much of an impression.

On the other hand, we must be careful not to overlook one vital point in this new possibility.

Although Hutchinson was asked just how definite the establishment of the bus system was, and he replied that he could see nothing at the present time to block its being started, we must not forget the need of continuing the P. E.

Hutchinson insists that his plans were underway long before the P. E. announced their abandonment move. But the fact remains, Hutchinson's publicity will tend to make people say, "If there is a bus system coming in, then we don't care what the P. E. does."

It is vital that the P. E. passenger service be kept running.

Many bus lines have attempted to start running in this area in the past years, and none of them have continued. Even though the proposed line seems to have sound financial backing, any businessman knows that there is no assurance that it will continue for an indefinite period, no matter how carefully its plans have been laid.

Let's hope the new system is established and is extremely successful. But, on the other hand, let's keep the P. E. running. Competition between the two means that the most competent will win out and that is what we want — a competent transportation system.

Cypress Library Gains In Volume

Circulation of books in the Cypress branch of the Orange County library has more than doubled that of last year at the same time, says Mrs. Ray King, librarian. Part of this is due to the 49ers club, a summer reading group to encourage the children to read during the summer and encourage good reading habits in their own reading levels. There are about 50 youngsters enrolled and the club which will continue during the summer, Janice Garber leads in the highest number of books read, having 47 to her credit.

Mrs. King is cooperating with the recreation program at Cypress school on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursday by furnishing books for the rest periods.

Two non-fiction books which have been widely read that may be found on the book shelves are "My Los Angeles" by Matt Weinstock. Los Angeles Newspaper columnist, and L. A. Beck's "Second Carrot From The End". Mrs. King emphasizes the fact that she will send for any requests for both fiction and non-fiction books.

For the size of the library, the number of registrations is considered very large, according to Mrs. King.

Ruby Stewart, car-hop at the Triangle Drive-In, returned to Missouri for an indefinite stay last week with her father.

Downtown Stores Are Juggled As New Buildings Are Occupied

Moving into the new store fronts owned by A. E. (Pat) Arnold, which has so long been anticipated by local residents, was begun this week.

First to move their equipment was Mr. and Mrs. Don Dixon of Cypress cleaners. Although they haven't completed their interior decorations, the physical plant is now going at full capacity. The cleaners are in the western extreme of the four new fronts.

On the eastern edge, E. V. Corby and Clarence Kiek have completed the change with the Corby barber shop. It is completely moved in now.

The space next to the Cypress cleaners on the east will probably house the Cypress post office, although no definite announcement from Washington has been made to this effect. If the post office is approved in that location, the Cypress hardware hopes to move its appliance store into the present post office site. The wall between the two will be removed.

Arnold has begun knocking the wall out between the M & H Market and the rooms formerly occupied by Corby and the cleaners. No definite date has been set for completion of this project, but the added space will make a four-front building out of Dick Hathcock's market. An arched opening will replace the wall.

Arnold has not announced what type of business will occupy the remaining room between the proposed post office and Corby's.

GREGG'S MKT. ENLARGES

The movements of stores on the west side of the P. E. tracks were not the only evidences of expanding businesses in Cypress. Gregg's Market, one-half mile east of Cypress on Lincoln in the Behrens' business addition, has torn away the wall on the west side of the market.

More arranging of equipment is expected to be done, but the space is already being used for fruits and vegetables and minor items.

The added room gives Gregg's a 70 foot front.

INCOMES OF COUNTY INDIVIDUALS INCREASE

Individual incomes of Orange county's civilian residents totaled $236,922,000 during 1948, a gain of 3.6 percent over the previous year, and 244.6 percent higher than the county's income total of $68,759,000 during 1940—the research department of the California State Chamber of Commerce announced today. During these same periods, California's statewide civilian incomes increased 4.9 percent over 1947, and 200.6 percent over 1940 levels. "The Southern California region income in the same periods increased 5.1 percent and 199.3 percent, respectively.

Gene Noe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Noe, 4891 Grace street, arrived home from northern California Saturday night after a vacation following his release from the navy last month. He plans to finish at Fullerton Junior college next fall.

P. E. Hearings Bring Out Many Points

The week's sessions in the hearings of the Pacific Electric Railway system brought out a variety of facts.

Probably the most significant to Cypressans, is the refusal of the Los Angeles city council to allow the P. E. to abandon their Santa Monica Air Line. The vote was 10-3.

Charges against the abandonment were voiced by such men as Robert J. Cahall, Westwood Gardens civic association. He warned that the P. E. was using "splinter tactics" by trying to abandon their lines one by one.

Another objector to the P. E. gave his opinion that the P. E. lines would pay off if they would try offering service.

In defense of the P. E., one spokesman claimed that the line must be abandoned because the company was paying out three dollars for every one in revenue.

Seeks To Raise Fares

In another announcement from the P. E., President, A. O. Smith, of the Pacific Electric railway, said the transit company may ask authority for "further increases in bus fares."

This statement came out while Smith was being cross-examined at a hearing before the State Public Utilities commission.

He added that the increases may only be asked for some of the lines instead of all of them.

Merchants Drop Practice Tilt

In a practice game with Norwalk's Coast Grain Monday, the Cypress Merchants showed up without any of their regular three pitchers and dropped a thrilling contest, 16 to 15.

Frank Ferreira, Salty Falls and Lanky Boeckler filled in the chugging gap and held the opposition down until a five run barrage in the seventh led the game for Coast Grain.

In the fifth, Cypress lead 11 to 6, kept ahead in the sixth 15 to 11 and then dropped behind 16 to 15 when the final out was made.

Merchants Play-off Favorites Local fans look upon the Cypress team as the favorite to win the play-offs for the NSA league championships. No announcement as to the schedule or dates of the play-off games has been made, but they are expected to be in the near future.

Cypress is tied for the league lead with All-American Market of Downey at the end of summer play.

Devilettes Play Two Final Games

Tuesday night at 7:30 the Cypress Devilettes will meet the Tom Boys from El Modena on the Elementary school diamond. It will be the fourth meeting of the teams, with the Tom Boys the winner in the other three.

Thursday marks the final contest of the schedule for the local girls when they tangle with the Olive group. This game is also in Cypress at 7:30. The Devilettes bested the Olive team in the first game of the season with them, but dropped the two games played since then.

This Week's Results

In the two games played this week, Cypress dropped the Friday night fray with Hawaiian Gardens 9 to 4 in a tight battle. Evelyn Rhodes, Catalina Boeckler, Marian Roberts and "Charlie" Falls scored the runs for Cypress.

A new high in scoring was reached in the tilt with the Junior Lionettes from Orange. The score was 34 to 5 in favor of the Lionettes. Scoring runs for Cypress in that contest were Darlene Greenwade, Beverly Horton, Betty Lantz, Loretta MacVay and Catalina Boeckler.

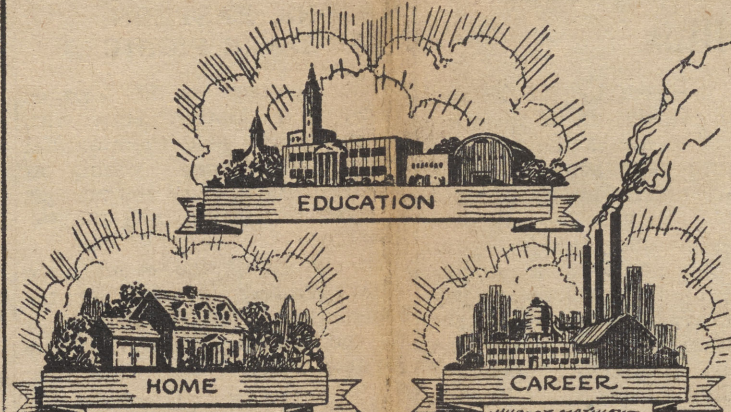

TEEN-AGERS MEET AT VAN DYKE'S

Monday night at 7:30, the "Lo-Teens" are meeting for dancing and refreshments at the Jake Van Dyke home, 5252 W. Orange. The affair will last until 10 p.m. Last Monday about 20 people enjoyed dancing on the cement floor of the Van Dyke garage to the music of a record player. Refreshments were served.

Out Of Town Groups Dominate Bus Line Speech At Chamber Meeting

Fifty persons, some from as far away as the suburbs of Santa Ana, listened to D. K. Hutchinson of Bell tell of his proposed bus system through this area at the Cypress Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday evening.

Most of those in attendance were there for the purpose of impressing upon Hutchinson the need for a bus route through their particular areas.

Explains Legal Angle

Hutchinson explained the legal procedures through which his plan will operate. Basically, it is that municipally-owned groups may operate bus lines without franchises, but they are prohibited from doing so because of the tremendous cost involved in buying modern busses in the quantities needed.

The temporarily-named Twin Cities transportation committee, which Hutchinson represents, will make it possible for the municipalities to run a bus line by leasing the vehicles to them, thereby eliminating the initial cost of the busses for the cities.

Hutchinson said he used chamber meetings such as Cypress as a means of completing his survey to determine how much bus travel will be evident in various communities. He asked all members of the different chambers present to write him letters with information as to population, commuters, and other statistics.

As an example, he cited the report he had from Long Beach on the number of out-of-town shoppers each store estimated each week, and the towns from which they came.

Sorghum Mill Was One Of First Big Developments In Cypress

(Ed. Note—Mrs. Olive Williams gathered the following material from the McWilliams, who started the "Old Sorghum Mill and who are still the owners of it and residents of Cypress.)

Land at $35 Acre Mr. and Mrs. Lacey McWilliams and three children came here from Texas in 1889. With them came the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McWilliams and his brother, Joe. They liked this location so they bought 40 acres of the Stearns rancho for $35 an acre and built a house. Two more children were born there.

Like all pioneers, they farmed their land, but they had run a sorghum mill in Texas. Knowing there was no other such mill in this country and having an opportunity to buy a small mill cheap, they started what grew to be a thriving business, and one which identifies Cypress today. To think of Cypress is to think of the sorghum mill. The McWilliams' grew their own cane and the first year they made only about 100 gallons of syrup. The mill was set up on their own place with not even a roof overhead and horse power was used to grind the cane.

They interested other farmers in growing sorghum cane and in 1907, the first sorghum mill was built on the home place. The business continued to flourish until they turned out as high as 15,000 gallons of syrup in a single season and shipped it to New York and Honolulu.

In 1921, the sorghum mill was moved to Lincoln avenue in Cypress in order to be nearer the center of trade, and also to use gas to run the cookers. In 1932, Lacey McWilliams retired and turned the business over to his son, Elmer McWilliams, who is still making sorghum under much more modern methods than were used in the first mill.

There will be a meeting of the White Gold Day Committee heads at the Elementary school Wednesday night at 8:00 p.m.

It's Here Again! Another Dance By Firemen

Saturday night will see the normally quiet Cypress Volunteer Firemen's building jumping with the local cats, jitterbugs, and also the more sedate merchants and their wives.

Climbing each time in attendance and popularity, this week's dance promises to be one of the best. The same band has been spoken for and they have pleased previous participants with a good variety of both popular and novelty music.

Tickets are on sale now from any member of the Cypress volunteer fire department.

Bowling Teams Will Compete In New Bowl

Two men's teams and possibly a women's team will participate in the handicap leagues being started in the new Buena Park Bowl. No definite beginning dates have been announced.

Clyde O'Neil, organizer of the groups, has almost completed the solicitation of funds for shirts and entry fees, but needs a few more contributors before he can meet the expenses.

Women interested in bowling for the Cypress team should contact Mrs. Dorothy O'Neil, or Mrs. John Thomas at the Triangle Drive-In.

Bowlers who have expressed interest in participating in league play and from whom the teams will be picked are: Glen Falls, Clyde O'Neil, Harry Poor, Dick Hathcock, Bruce K. Anderson, Frank Noe, Foster Noe, Jimmy Moss, Andy Kolosky, Bob Jensen, Alex Wilson, Clyde Arnold and Price Siebert.

The men's league will bowl on Tuesday nights at 9, women's on Wednesday at 6:45 p.m.

DEATH BENEFITS AVAILABLE FOR VETS

Applications for any one of the four benefits may be obtained from any VA Office, from Service Organizations and chapters of the American Red Cross.

VALUATION RISES IN ORANGE COUNTY

A record high in county tax assessments has been set in Orange County for the 1949-50 fiscal year, with a boost of $34,000,000 over last year, County Assessor Maurice Enderle announced.

Total assessment reached $439,154,190, plus exemptions totaling $29,647,770. The exemption total was increased this year by $300,000, largely because of increased veteran applications. County Auditor L. H. Eckel predicted the overall average gain in net worth in the county will be about 9%.

"LO-TEENS" RESUME DANCES AT SCHOOL

SURPRISE! YOU'VE GOT A YEAR-AROUND STATE LEGISLATURE

(The editor had a visit this week from Joe Ritter who needs no introduction to Buena Park people. Joe wanted to help us answer a question asked a couple of weeks ago about how our state legislators manage financially on their low pay.

Joe brought an editorial out of the California Farmer magazine which we take the liberty of reprinting below. It seems to answer the question pretty well. And by the way, Joe says he was once told he was the oldest subscriber to the Farmer magazine, having started when it was known as the California Cultivator.)

Remember when you dusted off your hands and said: "That's that?"

You had just voted down the proposal to have the California Legislature meet every year and had said in effect: "Once every two years is enough."

But now look at us! The Legislature meets the year around, and has voted itself $1,205,900 of your money to spend.

Give credit to the State Chamber of Commerce for explaining this riddle. It has just compiled a list of 77 legislative interim committees which the recent session authorized to spend the approximately $1 1/4 millions.

That's a lot of committees, when it is remembered that there are only 40 senators and 80 assemblymen to man these 77 committees. It figures out one and a fraction legislators to each committee.

What happens, of course, is that one legislator is on several committees and may draw expense money from all of them. It is reported that one legislator collected approximately $10,000 last interim in addition to his salary of $1200.

There are stalwarts who earn their interim money, on useful projects, but for some it is mostly a vacation on pay.

Some, it is said, are better investigators of foods and drinks than of public problems.

While you were not looking you got yourself a year-around legislature. How do you like it?

THE GREAT DAY

Yes, it was a great day four years ago. Remember the hours of tense waiting for the official word—winners and losers—breathed a prayer and a sigh of relief. Ten million men under arms looked happily homeward and a million of these, who were preparing for the invasion of Japan, felt that a special miracle had happened just for them.

We can hope—and work to make that hope a reality—that August 14, 1945, did not merely mark the end of another war, but brought down the final curtain on the long history of armed conflict.

If we strive toward this end with the same energy and determination that enabled us to win the war we may yet achieve it in spite of the present world outlook.

BUT LET'S LOOK AT BOTH RECORDS!

I RISE TO REMARK

by John Phillips

Here are a few odds and ends to keep your blood pressure up, while I get ready to see if American bureaucracy operates the same abroad as it does here.

In spite of the falling income of the nation, the government payroll has been increasing since January by about 300 people a day. Senator Byrd points this out patiently each month.

The budget for the current fiscal year (slightly "estimated" as the Senate has not sent back our last four appropriations bills) will be $42.1 billion. I estimate the expenditures for the same year as $42.1 billion. This last figure is the one to watch. It is hard to reckon, and the Appropriations Committee minority has to keep an accountant working on figures like this all the time. The INCOME for the same period cannot be over $38 billion. We always add to the budget between January and July, so allowing a 5% estimate for that, you can figure that, on July 1st 1950, we will have spent $6 billion more of your money than we took from you in taxes.

This does not include arming Europe, nor any of the President's socialization programs, which could double that deficit.

Remember, when you talk about FREE services from Washington, the only person you are fooling is yourself. We have no source of money, down here, except your pocketbook. Government is not a producer of wealth.

It is only a spender of your money, and every time we spend your money for you we take off a service charge. I rise to remark that the service charge is so high that a private business couldn't charge it and keep going. You wouldn't buy there. So why buy from Washington?

You simply add to the bureaucratic cancer that is slowly eating out the vital organs of representative government. In 1900, one person out of 24 was on a government payroll; today 1 out of every 8 is paid by the taxpayers, and even some of his own pay is taken back to pay other government employees.

When a prominent California executive came down to Washington, in the Department of Agriculture, his impulsive statement was that the department would operate more efficiently if he could fire 25% off the payroll. The accuracy of his percentage could be argued, but not the fact that there are more people than good business methods require, or than private business could afford for the same jobs.

Employment in government increases 5 times as fast as in private business. There are 6,700,000 full-time employees, about half of whom are employed by state and local governments, the rest by the Federal government, but all of them are paid out of the same pocket—yours—the only source there is for government money. If you can't take the vacation you planned this summer, comfort yourselves that you have made jobs possible on the government payroll in Washington, nice jobs, good hours, fair pay, vacations, sick leave, retirement, "security," no feeling of responsibility for the financial condition of the business, and not very hard work. The ultimate result will be bankruptcy, as in other countries, just as soon as they have spent our money as well as theirs, for the same "security" which ruined the Roman Empire is now ruining England, and will ruin us, if we let it.

Coming back to the Department of Agriculture (which is our home department, for all farm Representatives, the one to which we are the closest, and the most sympathetic) we still must face the fact that only 20 years ago, that department had a budget of $22,800,000 and 2,000 employees. Today Congress is giving it $739,379,559 in the current budget, and it has 40,000 employees.

VETS CHECKS TO BE SLIGHTLY DELAYED

Approximately 6000 veterans who entered summer schools and colleges in this area in June did not receive their subsistence checks on Monday, August 1, 1949, as scheduled. L. C. Chapman, Manager of the Los Angeles Regional Office of the Veterans Administration, said today.

"Checks should be received by practically all of these veterans not later than August 10," Chapman said. He added that veterans will aid the situation by not querying the local VA about non-arrival of checks until after August 10, 1949.

SOUTHLAND TRAFFIC DEATHS DOWN 3 PER CENT IN FIRST-HALF

A total of 740 traffic fatalities, including 44 in Orange County, were reported in Southern California during the first six months of this year, the Automobile Club of Southern California Tuesday revealed.

This compares with 1948's first-half totals of 763 deaths, 46 of which occurred in Orange County.

The Club said this year's record thus far represented a three per cent decrease in fatalities in comparison with 1948 totals.

Travelogue

by James C. Duncan

The next morning at 9:25 we arrived in Penang. We anchored in the stream, for like Port Swettenham, there is only one dock in Penang and a ship was tied up to it.

Penang is a small mountainous island just off the west coast of the Malay Peninsula. It is a very picturesque place.

Most of the island is jungle and the land that has been cleared is fertile and very productive. The city is fair in size and like Swettenham, a mixture of races comprise the population. Penang is also known as the Prince of Wales Island and it is under British rule.

After we had anchored, the company agent came out to the ship and brought the mail with him. The rest of the morning was spent reading our letters.

Natives Come Out

Native men rowed out to the ship in small wooden rowboats to take us ashore. This is the only transportation provided between ship and shore. Everyone stayed aboard during the day as it was too hot to go ashore, but that evening a great majority of the crew went. Lenny and I went ashore the first evening along with some of the other fellows from the crew. We rode about in pedicabs for awhile looking the city over. We found the evenings in Penang wonderful. It was warm enough to go without a coat and cool enough to sleep comfortably at night. The fragrance of many tropic blossoms predominates the evening atmosphere. The stars shine brightly and when there is a full moon the effect is beautiful.

The city is quite modern. Cars, buses and street cars provide transportation about the city. The buildings are nice and clean. Some of the buildings are so modernistic that it is hard to believe that you are in a foreign city.

Most of the buildings are stuccoed and painted a soft yellow, while some are constructed of brick. What pleased me most about the city is its cleanliness. Penang has some beautiful parks and they are kept immaculate. Beautiful homes outside the city boast of beautiful lawns with every blade of grass trimmed uniformly and many trees and shrubs. Flowers are almost everywhere. At night, millions of fireflies fly in and out of the shrubbery making them glow with a soft greenish radiance.

Even the ocean adds beauty to the island. At day, it is a sapphire blue and at night, phos-

NEW TRAIN SCHEDULE FOR DEL MAR TRACK

Effective on Monday, August 1, Santa Fe Railway's special trains to Del Mar race track are operating on a new schedule, according to C. C. Thompson, passenger traffic manager for the company's Coast Lines.

On Mondays through Fridays, the Del Mar train will depart Los Angeles at 10:45 a.m., arriving at Del Mar track at 1:15 p.m.

On Saturdays, the first section will leave Los Angeles at 10:30 a.m., with second section departing at 10:45 a.m. The Saturday departure, therefore, is 15 minutes earlier than it has been, Thompson said.

The first section on Saturdays will arrive at Del Mar track at 1 p.m., with second section arriving at 1:10 p.m. phorus glows brilliantly when the water is disturbed by ships, fish or the wind.

Attend American Movie
After riding about the city, we stopped at the Rex Theater and went to the show. We saw Abbott and Costello in "Here Comes the Co-eds." The natives nearly had hysterics during the picture. It was more interesting and fun to go to a show and observe the reactions of the native audience, than to see the picture itself. They greatly enjoy our American comedies and an American picture will always draw a large audience.

The next day, two jewelers came out to the ship carrying small black cases. They went to the crew's mess hall and after some of the crew had gathered around they opened the cases. The cases contained rings of every type. All different types of stones were set in them. They also had envelopes filled with loose stones.

Display Valuable Gems
They had beautiful sapphires, star sapphires, moonstones, rubies, star rubies, Jade, alexandrites, emeralds, diamonds, cat's eyes, and of course, garnets and zircons. They had some truly beautiful stones, but most of the crew was a little dubious as to their true value, so not many were bought. Those who did buy some, bought the cheaper rings and stones, so if they were proven fakes, they wouldn't lose so much.

It rained off and on during our stay in Penang. One minute the sun would be shining brightly and the next it would be pouring down rain. At times, it rained so hard that nothing was hardly visible. In the evenings usually, lightning played around the horizon. Often times it would flash in soft pastel colors of pink, yellow, blue and white. The thunder would play a concerto in the clouds.

We remained in Penang fifteen days, then sailed for Colombo, Ceylon.

CYPRESS LOCALS

The Cypress Fire Department is still looking for the fire that called them out near Crescent west of town Monday morning. No trace of a fire or anyone responsible for sounding the alarm could be found.

Committees in charge of arrangements for the 44th annual summer picnic of the Iowa Society next Saturday at Bixby Park in Long Beach are now completed. 100,000 ex-Hawkeys are expected to attend.

Individual incomes of Orange county's civilian residents has now reached a new high of $236,922,000, a gain of 3.6 per cent. It would be interesting to know what the average individual income is?

The last grunion run of the year will come to an end this week-end. The little fish are slated to run up on the sand at about 11:00 each evening.

A spot-light advertising a carnival at Artesia Sunday night and a "sludge" fire at the Texaco installment on West Orange which sent up a pillar of black smoke Monday morning reminded some people of Bible days. A pillar of fire by night and a pillar of smoke by day led the children of Israel through the wilderness.

Mr. and Mrs. Ratte of Long Beach have been frequent visitors in town the last few days. They have charge of selling the Lincoln Avenue property of the Penhall's.

Fifteen Long Beach youths bicycled through town Saturday on their way to Knott's Berry Farm. The good old days are coming back?

Rick Townsend, the Cypress jeweler, sends back word that he took in Yellowstone park on his way to his home at Story City, Iowa. This will delay his return to Cypress until sometime next week.

Word has been received that Fred W. Bewley, former principal of the Cypress school and now assistant superintendent of Whittier schools, has been made superintendent and will take over his duties on September 1.

A Cypress resident, Jesse E. (Smitty) Smith, 5701 Vonnie Lane, will have reached the end of his career in the navy August 18 when he will be retired.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rapp have as their guests Grover Stevens, Gene DuBois and Gene Stockdale, all of Dallas, Texas. They were friends of their son, Bill, while he was in the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerve Foutz of Avenal spent the week-end at the home of the latter's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McWilliams. When they returned home on Monday, they were accompanied by their niece, Mrs. Faye Arnold, who will stay until Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McCausland, former residents of Cypress who have lived in Long Beach for the past few years have moved back to Cypress and are occupying a house on the property of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Coburn.

Mrs. Earl Sartwell received word early this week of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Hans Ellefson, in Montpelier, North Dakota.

One of Nation's Few Known Dulcimer Players Is At Knott's Berry Farm

Recently a certain tabloid newspaper in a nearby large city ran a small article mentioning Mrs. Nellie McKinney, the Dulcimer player at Knott's Berry Farm.

The article informed the public that she was playing a Zither, that it was "no special accomplishment," and that she was 100-years-old.

Mrs. McKinney is "only" 87, according to her daughter, Mrs. E. Moore, with whom she resides at 6311 South Manchester Blvd.

Furthermore, playing the Dulcimer is almost a lost art and Mrs. McKinney is one of the few women in the country and almost certainly the oldest that has mastered its intricate strings. The Dulcimer is an instrument of such antiquity that mention of it can be found in the Bible (Daniel, Chapter 3, verses 5, 10 and 15).

Mrs. McKinney learned to play the Dulcimer as a child in Missouri. She lived in that state until several years ago when she came west to California and Buena Park to live with her daughter. After playing the instrument at several social gatherings she was persuaded to accept a position at Knott's Berry Farm where she plays the instrument every day in the late morning and early afternoon.

According to Mrs. Moore, the Dulcimer was used in the Henry Ford Early American orchestra for several years until the player passed away. No replacement could be found so the instrument had to be taken out of the orchestra.

CROP Milk Reaches Children Overseas

Thousands of refugee children, such as this one being fed by Sister Klara, Lutheran nurse in the Lobe Haus Children's home in Munich, have been supplied with milk through the contributions of American farmers to the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP), according to John D. Metzler, national chairman.

In the year ending June 1, CROP handled 75,668,581 pounds of farm commodities, valued at $6,576,000. Included in this amount were 4,470,000 pounds of milk. Shipments were made to 22 foreign countries.

"Since milk is desperately needed, we shall strive to obtain a larger quantity of it in the 1949 CROP campaign," Metzler said. "In many areas children over nine months still get no milk at all. Younger ones get one-fourth pint a day."

CROP is sponsored nationally by Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service, and Lutheran World Relief.

California veterans who were born in or entered service from this State may be eligible for State assistance in financing farms and homes, with advances up to $7,500 on a home or $13,500 on a farm repayable over long periods at low interest (currently 3 per cent).

HISTORIC FILM AVAILABLE FOR CLUB SHOWINGS

Interest in the California Centennials Commission motion picture continues to grow as more and more service clubs, women's organizations, and other groups take advantage of the Commission's offer of free use of the documentary film, "California's Golden Beginnings," which is in sound and color.

More than a million and a half Californians have already viewed this historical film according to Lloyd D. Mitchell, Southern California Manager.

In Buena Park, the film is available for such showings upon request to Miss Carrie Sheppard, Librarian at the Fullerton Public Library.

When James Marshall discovered gold at Sutter's Mill in January, 1848 he set in motion one of the epic moments of history and the whole country was in a mad scramble to get to California, the new El Dorado. The California Centennials Commission has set down in dramatic form the vivid story of California's golden beginnings. Some of Hollywood's best known character actors are featured in the twenty minute film.
